McAuley's Daniel Murphy Scholars Meet with Mentor

Sybil Hightower of Hampton Marshall Brokerage Group met recently at Mother McAuley Liberal Arts High School with Daniel Murphy Scholarship Foundation (DMSF) scholars. Ms. Hightower has been a volunteer mentor for DMSF for many years and mentors 12 Daniel Murphy Scholars including Alexis Boose (Chg., Ashburn), Elizabeth Brent (Chg, Chatham), Katie Cronin (Chg, Morgan Park), Angelica Estrada (Chg., Washington Heights), Yesenia Gonzalez (Chg., Westlawn), Kara Hastings (Chg, Englewood), Colleen Healy (Chg., Bridgeport), Precious Jackson (Chg, Gage Park), Amber Johnson (Chg., Auburn Gresham), Aris Johnson (Riverdale), Venisha Lyons (Chg., Englewood), and Laura Santos (Chg., Chg Lawn).

The Daniel Murphy Scholarship Foundation was set founded by brothers James and Robert Murphy to honor their father's commitment to provide his children with a high quality private education. The mission of the foundation is to provide a four year high school scholarship to a student who is a resident of Chicago and has demonstrated academic potential. Scholars are supported throughout their high school years by mentors like Ms. Hightower. The foundation also provides SAT/ACT preparation, college counseling and a college fair for their scholars.
