MOTHER MCAULEY CELEBRATES BLACK HISTORY MONTH

During Black History Month, members of Mother McAuley's UNITY Club honored the history and accomplishments of African-Americans with activities and a celebration for the entire McAuley community.

Posters and images of notable African-Americans were on display in the hallways and quotations from famous African-Americans were read daily during announcements. At the end of the month, the UNITY Club hosted a Black History Month celebration that included singing, dancing, poetry readings, and inspirational speeches. Completing the celebration was a buffet featuring traditional African-American dishes prepared by the UNITY members. Senior Genesis Dunford of Washington Heights was instrumental in planning this year's Black History Month celebration.
