MCAULEY WELCOMES CLASS OF 2013

Mother McAuley Liberal Arts High School is proud to welcome its newest students, the Class of 2013, to the McAuley community. The nearly 380 freshmen began their high school career with two days of orientation where they attended classes, were introduced to their teachers and administrators, and met their classmates. This is a unique opportunity for the freshman to become acquainted with McAuley before the first official day of school on August 20.

This year, enrollment at McAuley is over 1425 and serves students from local neighborhoods as well as from LaGrange, Lemont, Matteson, Chicago Heights, Crete and Crown Point, Indiana.

Members of McAuley freshman homeroom number 210 first meet their teacher, McAuley Science Department Chairperson Dr. Roz Iasillo (center), and classmates during freshman orientation. During orientation, a special assembly is held so the young women can get to know the classmates they will be in homeroom with for the next four years. Many McAuley alumnae claim they develop lifelong friendships with the students they meet on this first day of school.
